

Organic Mesquite Powder

MQP5kg

Native to the Southwest U.S. and South America, mesquite powder was traditionally used by Native Americans as an important food source.

It has an aroma and flavor of caramel and has been used as an alternative to brown sugar as well as being used as an important flour in baking.

Mesquite powder is dried and then ground from the entire bean pod of the wild mesquite tree. There are many ways to use mesquite powder - such as adding it to baking recipes, pancakes, stews, coffee, tea and other foods and beverages.
